What makes a great pizza? It starts with a great oven! Ours is an authentic wood- fired masonry oven where the fire has burned constantly since the day we opened. Modern gas and electric ovens cannot produce the intense heat needed - over 800 degrees - to achieve the crispy, smoky crust that our oven provides. With dough made fresh daily in-house, our goal is to make the best pizza in DC!

In the mood for something a little fancier? Steak, pork tenderloin, duck? Our chef-driven bistro dishes are simply and classically prepared. You'll find our appetizers and entrees well seasoned and hearty, never bland.

the space

The challenge? Build an interesting restaurant in a vintage urban building 15 feet wide and three stories tall. The owners, with backgrounds in restaurants and construction, designed and built the entire space.
